The purpose of this conference is to offer nurses and healthcare providers across the spectrum of maternal, neonatal and pediatric care an opportunity to meet a broad and diverse set of professional needs and to stay connected on an interprofessional level.

Topics will include but not limited to: Antepartum Gestational Hypertension, Breast Milk, Body Cooling in the NICU, and Palliative Care

The CECH Conference will provide discussions on basic knowledge and skills, recent developments in research and science, best practices, and evidence-based recommendations. All of this information is aimed at representing state-of-the-art advances in nursing, leadership, and research. Learners will receive updates on clinical topics relevant to professional practice, be offered multiple networking opportunities with faculty and participants, and be given numerous opportunities to interact with product vendors.
