Transitional Housing/Shelter

BH-8600

Programs that provide extended shelter and supportive services for homeless individuals and/or families with the goal of helping them live independently and transition into permanent housing. Some programs require that the individual/family be transitioning from a short-term emergency shelter. The length of stay varies considerably by program. It is generally longer than two weeks but typically 60 days or more and, in many cases, up to two years maximum. The supportive services may be provided directly by the organization managing the housing or coordinated by them and provided by other public or private agencies. Transitional housing shelter is generally provided in apartment style facilities with a higher degree of privacy than short-term homeless shelters. Some programs require that the individual/family be transitioning from a short-term emergency shelter and may be configured for specialized groups within the homeless population such as people with substance abuse problems, homeless mentally ill, homeless domestic violence victims, veterans or homeless people with AIDS/HIV. In some cases, a “transition in place” option allows families to continue living in the same complex if the other unit where their transitional housing unit is located when they are ready to move to permanent housing. In other cases, the permanent housing option is either public housing or private rental housing supported by a tenant-based voucher subsidy. Included are post-domestic violence shelter housing programs that make affordable rental housing (or other accommodations) available to women, generally those who are coming directly out of a domestic violence shelter or other crisis shelter, often in apartment complexes owned by the shelter.
