

$100 ACCOUNT CREDIT!

By replacing your old toilet with a new high efficiency, low flow, WaterSense® toilet!

Toilets are by far the main source of water use in the home, accounting for nearly 30 percent of residential indoor water consumption. Toilets also happen to be a major source of wasted water due to leaks and/or inefficiency. WaterSense®, a program sponsored by the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), is helping consumers identify high performance, water-efficient toilets that can reduce water use in the home and help preserve the nation's water resources.

So whether you're remodeling a bathroom, building a new home, or simply replacing an old, leaky toilet, a WaterSense® labeled toilet is a high-performing, water-efficient option worth considering. WaterSense® labeled toilets are available at a wide variety of price points and a broad range of styles. EPA estimates that a family of four that replaces its home's older toilets with WaterSense® labeled models will, on average, save more than $90 per year in reduced water utility bills, and $2,000 over the lifetime of the toilet. For more information about the WaterSense® program and a list of approved toilets, call 866-WTR-SENS (987-7367) or online at www.epa.gov/watersense.
