

Urban Congestion & Air Pollution

You Can Make The Difference

A group of people were asked to conduct an exercise depicting different modes of transportation and the amount of space utilized for each mode. The results illustrated below show that your actions can make a difference!

Forty people in automobiles closely spaced apart on the street.

Forty people seated in chairs depicting the amount of space needed when people travel in automobiles.

Forty pedestrians and cyclists in the same area.

Forty people demonstrating transit riders seated together in one bus-sized space.
