

Volunteer? Why Not Here?

Broward County Library Needs You!

Teens in middle and high school are always under pressure to complete their community service hours for school, college applications, and work experience. If you're interested in working with people in a pleasant, fun atmosphere that challenges your creativity, why not consider volunteering for Broward County Library? Our teen volunteers are involved in a wide range of projects and duties that help make our library a success. From assisting in organizing books and materials to helping with children and craft programs, the annual StoryBook Festival, the Teen Advisory Board and more, our teen volunteers make a real difference in our library and our community.

Interested in getting started as a volunteer or finding out more about it? Here's a list of our current volunteer orientations and volunteer and Teen Advisory Board Meetings.
